ISO 27001 KEY CONCEPTS & DEFINITIONS

3 Year Audit Cycle

• ISO 27001 certified organizations are required to be on a three-year cycle of Surveillance and Re-certification Audits.

Re-Certification Audit

 Every three years a significant level of detail, artifacts, and evidence are required to be presented to the registrar or certification body by the certified organization. The goal is to continue to demonstrate management's commitment and improvement of the ISMS to ensure its effectiveness.

Certification Audit

 It's the first audit performed by the certification body or registrar and is exactly what the name suggests. If passed, you will receive your ISO 27001 certificate.

Registrar or Certification Body

 An accredited registrar, also called an accredited certification body, is an organization accredited by a recognized accrediting body for its competence to audit and issue certification confirming that an organization meets the requirements of a standard (e.g. ISO 27001).

Internal Audit

• It's a requirement of the standard for a certified organization to review its ISMS at planned intervals (most often annually).

AUDITS SCHEDULE & COST

Once certified, an ISO 27001 certified Information Security Management System (ISMS) must be audited annually to maintain certification. Internal Audits must be done each year by a third party, like Pivot Point Security, or internal personnel with an appropriate level of expertise who have not been instrumental in building or running the ISMS.

Objectivity is the key here.
